RESIDENT PROFILE

Constance Fontaine lived in Leominster her whole life until moving to Nashoba Park almost three years ago. Her parents, Adonia and Albert Bisson, had two sons, Oliver and Maurice. She and her husband, Roland, had four sons: Dennis, Ronnie, Steven, and Tom. The boys outnumbered the girls in both households! Connie has seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. She didn’t work outside the home until her husband became ill at age 49. Taking care of him for 16 years, she supported the family as a bookkeeper for her brothers’ business for more than 17 years. When her brothers retired, Connie took a couple of years off to travel to Florida and Hawaii. She became bored and needed something else to do. So Connie found another bookkeeping job and handled the business and personal accounts for her boss for over 16 years. She didn’t retire until she was 75! Connie loves living at Nashoba Park, saying, “The associates are all nice. I like the entertainment. I enjoy the company. There’s always something to do.”

WELCOME , NEW RESIDENT!
