RESIDENT PROFILE

George Foundas was born and raised in Greece. As a young man he worked as a police officer there. George moved to the United States when he was 29 years old. He settled in Brighton with his uncle for a brief time and then opened his own shoe repair business called “George’s Shoe” in Codman Square in Dorchester (in the photo at left, George is shining his shoes, something in which he takes a lot of pride!). In 1983, George bought a condo in South Boston, an investment that he is very proud to have made. During the early years of his retirement, George liked to spend time with friends at Castle Island, walking around and taking in the activity around him. He also was part of a senior lunch group at L Street. George likes to read a lot so the library is a favorite place for him, and he also enjoys the musical entertainment here at The BayView. George has also become an active participant in our Reconnections program, often commenting and asking questions about the different topics that we cover. We are having a lot of fun getting to know George, and we look forward to learning even more about him!

ASSOCIATE PROFILE

Katie O'Neil was born and raised in Quincy and graduated from Quincy High School. She has been working here at The BayView since June. Recently Katie has been in charge of running the Memory Support Neighborhood's dining area, including the activities that take place there. Baking groups, therapeutic massage, and outdoor strolls, are just a few of the programs she offers.

Katie will be heading off in the near future to join the Air Force, where she will be specializing in security forces. After that, she plans on continuing her education in nursing school. Some of Katie's hobbies are going to the beach, traveling to tropical places like Mexico and Bermuda, and playing softball and basketball in adult leagues. One of Katie's favorite things about working at The BayView is that she gets to laugh and joke around with the residents. She says that working in the Memory Support Neighborhood is great and she likes the personal feel of this small community. Thanks for all of your hard work, Katie!

ART APPRECIATION

As part of our Reconnections program about Art in America, we took a trip to the Museum of Fine Arts. Above: Kay Lee (top) and Shirley Tarutis (bottom) are inspecting various pieces of artwork. We have now partnered with the MFA and will be taking a trip each month to see a different exhibit.
