RESIDENT PROFILE

Robert Malcolm was born and raised in Cambridge. He met his wife, Carol, while working as a skating instructor. The two won several awards for skating in couples' competitions. Bob served as a United States Marine and spent some time in Korea and other places around the world. He worked as a truck driver as well as a salesman for a paper company, and eventually owned his own paper company.

Bob and his wife had two children and four grandchildren during their forty-two years of marriage. He loves music, singing, and dancing, and was always the last person on the dance floor at any function. He also enjoys golf, football, bowling, skiing, and likes to spend a little time at Foxwoods Casino. We can count on Bob to sing a song for us when an entertainer is playing one of his favorite songs, and he sings quite well!

HOLIDAY CELEBRATIONS AT NEVILLE PLACE!

We enjoyed many celebrations throughout the holiday season, from the lighting of the Menorah to a festive Holiday Party complete with musical entertainment by a barbershop quartet. We would like to applaud our spectacular food service department, led by Executive Chef Nick Polinski, for the fantastic array of delicious food and sweets that they prepared and served to us!

Counterclockwise, from top: Mary Sullivan and her family; Malcolm Freiberg lights the Menorah on the first night of Hanukkah; the gingerbread house made by Nick; Elaine Toeller and her daughter Susan Robbins; Emeline Eckert with Carter Eckert and Sun Ho Kim; Al Case with granddaughter Eliza; Olga Bergamin and friends.

BOOK LAUNCH PARTY

Residents of Neville Place helped Author Sarah Boyer launch her latest book, Common Cause, Uncommon Courage: World War II and the Homefront in Cambridge. Many residents, including Kathleen Langley (who lived in England during World War II and is pictured at right with Sarah), were interviewed in 2006 for this project. Each participant received a proclamation from the Cambridge City Council, and his or her own copy of the book.
