Louise Gill was born and raised in Indianapolis, Indiana, the oldest of three children. After graduating from Washington High School in Indianapolis, she met and married her husband Fred. The couple moved to New Jersey and while Fred worked as a local policeman, Louise provided temporary foster care to infants from the local hospital. After a short time, the pitter patter of her own children filled the house, and Louise's days were divided between raising her children and working at a law publishing firm as a supervisor. Louise was very active in her church, teaching Sunday school, running rummage sales and eventually serving as an officer for the church.

Louise says, "I originally was hesitant about coming to CCSR, but I am glad I did! It is great and I love it."

RESIDENT PROFILE

Louise has four daughters and one son (she says her son, the youngest, "took a beating" from his older sisters!). Today, she enjoys her six grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

Although she has only been at Cape Cod Senior Residences since July, Louise is well known, respected and active. Her interests include reading, crocheting and crafts. She recently assisted with the CCSR rummage sale. Louise's kind ways truly make us all feel at home.

Receptionist Margaret Reali grew up in Monument Beach and attended Bourne schools. She married her high school sweetheart at the age of 19, and went on to graduate from Bridgewater State College with a degree in psychology. Margaret and her husband, Bob, moved to the Virgin Islands to work with abandoned and neglected children. While there, they had two children of their own; daughter

Bethany, now 23, is married and expecting her first child; son Brendan is 20 and attends college in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Margaret and Bob live in Pocasset. Bob is self-employed and provides home repair and remodeling, and Margaret recently went back to college to pursue a career in nursing. In addition to her part-time work at Cape Cod Senior Residences, Margaret also works for Bayada Nursing.

STAFF PROFILE

Margaret enjoys cooking and entertaining, home decorating, reading and exercise, as well as singing with a worship band at her church. Her warm smile and gentle spirit set the lobby aglow! We are fortunate to have Margaret at the front desk to greet residents and families. Thank you for all you do!
