RESIDENT PROFILE

Hazel Jacobs is a true southern belle. She was born in a small town in southern Louisiana. Hazel's mother passed away when she was just six years old. Hazel was then placed into foster care where she and her brother were eventually split up. Five years later, her father remarried and she moved back in with him until she was 23 years old. When World War II began,

Hazel joined the Women's Army Corps, went into basic training, and then was assigned to Washington, D.C. Hazel worked in the classified message center from March 1943 until January 1946. She then moved back to D.C. to work in the message center as a civilian. She moved to Massachusetts 64 years ago when she met and married her husband, Saul, who passed away in 1966. Hazel worked for the city of Boston as a health inspector for 13 years before retiring in 1985. In addition to her busy career, Hazel had two sons and now has three grandchildren. Unfortunately, her younger son passed away eight years ago. Hazel moved here five months ago after living in another senior community and has been a wonderful addition to CCSR!

ASSOCIATE PROFILE

Dining Services Associate Austin Peters is originally from Cape Cod, having been born and raised in Barnstable. He graduated from Johnson and Wales University in Providence, Rhode Island and has worked in many states as a chef including Connecticut, New York, and Pennsylvania. Austin owned his own business in Lancaster, Pennsylvania for the past 22 years. He has also worked in various restaurants and has sold his own jams and sauces. Two months ago, Austin moved back to Osterville with his family. He is the proud father of 17-year-old twin boys. Austin enjoys cooking even when he is not at work! He also loves any activity that takes place on the water, or as he says, "anything that floats." Austin says his favorite part about working at Cape Cod Senior Residences is that "the people and residents are so nice and make me feel welcome."

GETTING ORGANIZED

Our crafty residents created some desk organizers to encourage a great start to the new year.

Right: Violet Skelley made a beautiful organizer

NEW YEAR'S EVE

We rang in the new year with a bang, celebrating with Chinese food and champagne!
