RESIDENT PROFILES

Marie (Thomas) Johnson was born and raised in Boston's Hyde Park section. She earned an undergraduate degree from Emmanuel College, followed by a master's degree in English from Boston University. Marie taught Medieval English for many years at both Boston College and Emmanuel. After her marriage in 1940, Marie and her husband raised five children in Bedford and Cataumet. When she moved to the Cape full-time, Marie went to work at Falmouth Hospital as the director of public relations, which she says was a "great job!" Marie also became quite active in St. John the Evangelist Church in Pocasset, and now enjoys leading a rosary group at CCSR. Marie has always loved to travel. She has been to France, England, Germany, and Japan, but her absolute favorite was Italy. She still loves to read, and is usually reading three or four books at any given time. Once, Marie recalls, while away from home staying in a hotel she realized she forgot her book so she actually chose to read the telephone book's advertisement section! Marie also enjoys knitting and the outdoors, and she loved our recent lobster luncheon!

NATIONAL ASSISTED LIVING WEEK

“Forever Proud” is the theme for this year’s National Assisted Living Week, which goes from September 11th (Grandparents Day) through the 17th. Because the week begins on the ten-year anniversary of 9/11, it was important for the theme to reflect the pride we feel as citizens and active members of the community. The events of 9/11 were tragic, but they also brought our country together. Countrymen helping countrymen and a spirit of rebuilding helped to foster a renewed sense of national pride for many. But it is not just national pride that “Forever Proud” addresses. This is a time to celebrate what has been and will be accomplished. A proud moment or event is something we never forget. This is an opportunity to share these moments with the community and those we love. Assisted Living communities around the country will be celebrating, remembering, and showing their pride together.
