CHILDHOOD DAYS

When I was a kid,
I had a great imagination being an only child.
No one to play with.
No one to talk to.
But I had the rocks
near the front porch steps.
I’d pretend things, like they were all going to school.
I dent the student rocks to the principals office
And gave the teachers job promotions.
It kept me busy
When I used my great imagination
And played outside with the rocks all day.
