October was a month of comings and goings at Standish Village! We welcomed Jean Patel Bushnell, our new executive director, and bid farewell to Neville Cullen, our dietary services manager. We also welcomed Anthony Barton as our new supervisor of food services. Enjoy reading about these members of our community!

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR PROFILE

We would like to welcome Standish Village's new Executive Director, Jean Patel Bushnell. Jean was born in Georgetown, Gyana, South America. She came to the United States to attend college, and while she was here, she fell in love and decided to stay. Jean has spent over 20 years working with older adults and their families. Jean said what she is most looking forward to here at Standish Village is helping all residents completely enjoy their experience in our community, and helping all staff members achieve their full potential! Jean is going to make an amazing addition to Standish Village. Welcome, Jean!

A FOND FAREWELL

Neville Cullen, who worked at Standish Village for the past seven years as the dietary food manager, has bid us goodbye. Neville has retired, and will be moving with his family to sunny Florida. Everyone at Standish Village would like to thank him for all of his hard work and dedication. He will truly be missed. Good luck, Neville!

ASSOCIATE PROFILE

We would like to welcome and congratulate Anthony Barton on his new role as Supervisor of Food Services. Anthony started working at Standish Village as the head chef 16 months ago. He has shown tremendous growth and potential to everyone here at Standish. We know that he will do a great job! Congratulations, Anthony!
